Welcome to the first issue of THE NUMISMATIC BOOKSELLER. As the titles implies, our efforts will be largely devoted towards offering, at fixed prices, selections from our extensive stock of numismatic books. Both new and rare, out of print titles will be listed.

In addition, we welcome correspondence and articles for inclusion in future issues. We will look forward to hearing from you. Any topic is fair game as long as it pertains to numismatic literature.

Since this issue will reach a larger audience than usual we would like to provide a brief background of our firm. Our first price list of rare and out of print numismatic books was issued in 1967. Less than 25 copies were distributed! In 1976 we conducted our first auction sale of numismatic literature. Emboldened by its success we decided to devote our full efforts to the purchase and sale of numismatic literature and for the past several years we have been involved exclusively in this profession. Our firm is the largest and most active in North America. Since mid-1981 we have sold well over one million dollars of rare and out of print numismatic books.

Each June we conduct a major public auction sale of rare numismatic books in Los Angeles, California (in conjunction with the Convention of International Numismatics) and each December we conduct a similar sale, in association with Spink & Son, in New York City (in conjunction with the New York International Numismatic Convention). Until now, fixed price catalogues of numismatic books have been issued at infrequent intervals. The BOOKSELLER will be issued six times yearly and often will be accompanied by separate Mail Bid Sales. Subscription to all 1984 publications is available for $15.00, $25.00 overseas. Subscription to NB alone is available for $7.50.

We are most pleased to announce that we have been chosen by Mr. Lester Merkin to sell, at public auction, his remarkable Library of American Numismatic Literature. The sale will take place in New York City in Spring 1984. It promises to be one of the most notable sales of American numismatic books ever held. A complete set of large format Chapman sales with plates will be featured as well as most of the small format plated Chapman sales. Many of the books and catalogues were previously in the libraries of Louis Helfenstein and other famous American numismatists. Further details of the sale will be forthcoming in the next issue.

Through the years "Satisfaction Guaranteed" is the motto upon which we have built our business. Any book purchased from this list is returnable within ten days of receipt for any, or no, reason. Our mail bid and public auctions are conducted on behalf of a third party, the consignors, and because of our obligation to him or her, we can accept returns only if lots are not as described. When payment accompanies order, all books will be sent postpaid by surface mail (postage and handling will be added to all items purchased at auction). If you have not done business with us we will be pleased to provide references. We are life members of the American Numismatic Association, members of the American Numismatic Society, the Royal Numismatic Society and many other numismatic organizations. We are also members of the Antiquarian Booksellers Association of America and the International League of Antiquarian Booksellers.

We would like to call your attention to the Mail Bid Auction Sale of the Second Part of the Ted Cragle Library which accompanies this issue. While few exceptional rarities are included there are many items in the sale that are seldom offered. The sale is particularly rich in American auction sale catalogues.

A BRIEF GLOSSARY OF BOOK TERMS

Books, like coins and medals, have their own special and specific terminology. The numismatist fully conversant with terms such as "Fleur de Coin" or "Mint State" may be somewhat baffled when the term is "Half-Bound" (What about the other half?) or "Gilt Inner Denticles" (Gold-capped teeth? In a book?). Hopefully, the rather brief alphabetical listing of definitions which follows will be useful to our readers. The listing will be continued in future issues.

ADDENDUM (plural Addenda)- Material to be included in a book after the text has been typeset. It may be printed separately at the beginning or end of the text or it may be printed on a separate slip of paper.

APPENDIX (plural Appendices)- Matter that is subordinate to the text of a book, printed immediately following the text.

ARMORIAL- A binding or book-plate featuring the coat of arms of a prior owner.

AS ISSUED- A term used to emphasize that a book is in its originally issued condition and format.

ATLAS FOLIO- The largest folio size, 17" x 26".

BACKSTRIP- The spine or backbone of a book.

BIBLIOGRAPHY- 1. The study of books as physical objects. 2. A list of books on a particular topic or a list of works consulted by an author.

BIBLIOMANIA- A craze for collecting books. Literally, a madness for books. "A bibliomaniac is a book collector with a slightly wild look in his eye." (John Carter).

BIBLIOPHILE- A lover of books. Literally, a friend of books and usually a collector of them.

BLACK LETTER- Also Gothic. A general term used to describe the group of heavy scripts which developed in Europe in the 12th century.

BLINDSTAMPING- A design and/or lettering impressed on the covers of a book without the use of gold or color.

BOARDS- The sides of a book, usually made of very heavy cardboard.

BOOKPLATE- A printed label designating ownership, usually pasted in the front inside cover of a book.

BOOK SIZES- See Format.

BOUND BOOK- A book with the boards attached to the contents before it is covered with cloth or leather. The term usually includes modern cased books.

BROADSIDE- In strict terms, a sheet of paper printed only on one side.

CALF- Leather made from the hide of a calf with a smooth finish. Naturally light tan in color but often dyed various colors. The most common leather used to bind books.

CASED BOOK- A book for which the boards and their covering material have been manufactured beforehand, usually in quantity. The contents are held together by a strip of cloth (the mull) glued to the spine and then to the insides of the boards.

CONDITION- The current state of preservation. As with coins, determination of condition is at best an inexact art. Completeness, unless stated otherwise, may always be assumed. The condition of the binding is usually noted first and, if the condition of the contents is different, a note to that effect follows. Most modern books are assigned a single descriptive term within which the condition of the covers and contents are encompassed. The usual designations of condition are:

AS NEW/MINT- A book as bright and crisp as the day it was made, with no signs of wear or defects.

VERY FINE- Nearly new, with minimal signs of use or wear. In practical terms the finest condition in which an older book may be found since time and the elements almost invariably rob a book of its, to use the numismatic term, "mint bloom."

FINE- A nice clean copy, only slight signs of use or wear.

VERY GOOD- Some wear but without serious defects.

GOOD- An average used and worn book, complete.

READING COPY- Poor condition but usable.

CROPPED- A book whose margins have been severely trimmed by the binder. Usually, the text has been affected.

DECKLE EDGE- The rough uneven edge of paper made by hand, caused by the pulp flowing between the frame and deckle of the paper mold. The deckle is the band which confines the paper in the mold during its manufacture.

DENTELLE- A French term meaning lace. In book-binding a term used to describe a border with a lacy pattern usually applied to the inner edges of a book in gilt.

DICED- A term used to describe a pattern of diamonds or small squares impressed in blind on the leather covers of a book.

DISBOUND- A book lacking its original, or later, binding.

DOUBLURE- A lining of tooled leather, watered silk or vellum affixed to the inside covers of a book.

DUST JACKET (or Dust Wrapper)- The paper covering, usually printed and often in color, which is wrapped around the covers of a book to protect it from wear and soiling. Often abbreviated d.j. or d.w.

EDGES- The three outer edges of the leaves of a book.

ELEPHANT FOLIO- An obsolete book size, usually 23" x 14".

ENDPAPERS- The leaves of paper added at the front and end of a book by the binder. The outer leaf is pasted to the inside of the covers and is termed the pastedown. The inner leaf or leaves are termed free endpapers.

ENGRAVING- An illustration or decorative device printed intaglio from a metal plate or in relief from a woodblock.

ERRATUM (plural Errata)- Errors made by the printer or author, discovered after the book has been printed, sometimes also called corrigenda. Often printed on a separate slip of paper which is inserted or tipped into the book.

EX LIBRARY- A book once in an institutional library with some or all of the appurtenant identification markings.

EX LIBRIS- See Bookplate.

FLYLEAF- In strict terms, an added blank leaf immediately following the free front endpaper but often used to describe the free front endpaper itself.

FOLIO- See Format.

FOREEDGE- The outer edge of a book, parallel to the backstrip or spine.

FORMAT- In common terms, the size and shape of a book. In bibliographic terms it is employed to indicate the size of a book determined by the number of times that the printed sheets composing it have been folded, as follows:

FOLIO- Each printed sheet is folded once.

QUARTO- Each printed sheet is folded twice.

OCTAVO- Each printed sheet is folded three times.

The methods of folding smaller format books often differ so no standard formula can be given. Since in the earlier days of printing the size of the printed sheet varied greatly, a great number of terms were employed, usually different in each country, to describe these subdivisions of size. Modern books are more uniform in size and the following terms are those most often employed, at least in the United States:

FOLIO (F^o)- over 13" or 33 cm tall.

QUARTO (4^{to})- over 12" or 30 cm tall.

OCTAVO (8^{vo})- over 9" or 23 cm tall.

DUODECIMO (12^{mo})- over 7" or 18 cm tall.

SEXTODECIMO (16^{mo})- over 6" or 15 cm tall.

VIGESIMOQUARTO (24^{mo})- over 5" or 13 cm tall.

TRIGESIMOSECUNDO (32^{mo})- over 4" or 10 cm tall.

FOXED- A term describing paper which is discolored or stained, usually with brownish yellow spots. It is caused by chemical impurities in the paper.

FRONTISPIECE- An illustration almost always facing the title.

FULL BOUND- A book entirely covered in one material, usually leather.
